THE OHARA CHAMPION
CHLORIDIZING FURNACE,
GUARANTEED TO CHLORIDIZE FROM 15 to 25 percent of any gold or silver ore that is not more profitable

A very serious question will soon be up before the Courts for decision. The Consolidated Virginia Mining Company refuse to pay the quarterly tax assessed on the net yield of the mine. It is said that the managers of the Consolidated Virginia mine positively refuse to pay said tax, which for the last quarter amounts to $20,000. This is a little more than two-thirds of the revenue derived by Storey county for the yield of the mines, the total amount for the quarter being $30,000. All the other mines in the county subject to the provisions of the law, as set forth on pages 230 and 231, vol. 2, compiled laws of Nevada, have complied therewith. The Board of Commissioners of Storey county held a meeting Thursday to consider what action they should take. The District Attorney is to be allowed assistant counsel, and also the aid of the State authorities was to be invoked. This action of the managers of the mine is surprising. It seems that they desire to follow the bad example set by the Central Pacific Railroad. The end will be the same, but the litigation will be very annoying and cause a great deal of trouble. When the tax is collected, which it surely will be, and the additional twenty-five per cent. is added thereon, the Consolidated Virginia folks will find that such a boresome is not like the one they now enjoy.

"ARMED PEACE OF EUROPE."

The last issue of the London Quarterly Review has an interesting article—especially to military readers—on the number and organization of the armies of the continental nations of Europe, and gives a startling picture of the misdirected energies of those great powers, each of which is striving to turn all its able-bodied young men—the flower of its manhood—into soldiers. From the statement of this writer we learn that Russia can, in the event of war, command the services of more than two million soldiers; France, one million and a half; Germany, one million six hundred thousand; Austria, one million two hundred thousand. The military forces of the other continental nations are not enumerated, yet it is known that they are making preparations on a scale proportioned to their respective population.

Here we have an inventory of six million three hundred thousand men ready (on short notice) for active war. Europe is thus a vast camp in "the piping days of peace;" but should either of the great sovereigns ("who rule by the grace of God") desire to fight his neighbor, the plains of the Continent would soon tremble with the march of infuriated soldiery. Again there would be

"mounting in not haste the steel
The maddening squadron and the clattering car," and thousands of poor soldiers would miserably perish—and simply that some crowned fool might become a military hero. And this in the age of the highest civilization!

THE "ROTTER BOUGH."

The following admission from the Carson Appeal is deserving of serious thought:

Ever since Nevada was brought into existence, corruption and bribery have been carried on with shameful openness. Indeed, these demoralizing practices have come to be regarded as a matter of course and have long since ceased to astonish anyone. Let the law be framed as that none will dare to violate it, and a most notorious practice may be abated.

Our election law is in many respects a good one. Improvements can be made that will stop many from evading the provisions. Nevada ought not to be called a "rotten bough." In order, however, to relieve the State from such a charge, we must do better in the future than in the past.

COVERT ENEMIES.

In another place will be found a partial defense of the Carson Mint by the Carson Appeal. While it confirms our belief in the honest management of that institution still there is a general vagueness about the explanation that hardly looks well in print. The honor of the State is concerned in this matter, and the Appeal should hold nothing back. Ever since the establishment of the Mint it has been followed and attacked by relentless enemies. Every effort that money-making ingenuity could devise has been practiced to break it down. We think it can be proven that the common carriers of the coast have been at the bottom of some of this deviltry. What is more reasonable than that Wells, Fargo & Co. and the Central Pacific Railroad should try to bring it into disrepute, and wish it merely an assay office. It hurts their business thousands of dollars per year. They do not want any coinage of Nevada mark. It were better for them that everything should be made tributary to San Francisco. They want to carry our bullion to San Francisco and bring back the coin. The express charges in such a case is a very considerable item. We believe that the Mint has been an eyesore to these corporations, and that they have given it a stab in the back every time a chance was afforded them.

THE CARSON MINT.

The Charges that Light Trade Dollars are Coined Denied—What the Appeal has to Say.

In reply to the San Francisco Bulletin, which first made the charge that the trade dollars coined at the Carson Mint were light weight, the Appeal of Thursday morning says:

We know the entire history of this effort to attempt to destroy the Carson Mint. We know all about the influence—cruel, strong, grasping and unscrupulous—which not only seeks to break down the Carson Mint but to build up a Mint in the Mississippi Valley. That influence is not the Bulletin. It is that which, either by collusion or deceit, has made the Bulletin say what appears in the foregoing. We may not be transcending the limits of the confidence which has been reposed in us when we say that it is an attempt to levy blackmail—not by the Bulletin, but by its prompter—upon the Bonanza. And now for some facts: There has never been one trade dollar coined at the Carson Mint which was not fully up to the standard of weight and fineness prescribed by the law. We defy any man to produce a trade dollar there coined and not subsequently tampered with, which will disprove this assertion. The grounds of this untruthful statement of the Bulletin are these: In November last one Evans, a special agent of the Treasury, having been duly interviewed by the parties who set the Bulletin's teeth on edge, wrote a letter to the Treasury Department in which he stated that the trade dollars coined at the Carson Mint were defective and light of weight. What basis had he for this statement? Merely this, namely: When the great fire took place in Virginia, a great many trade dollars were there in safes. By action of the local many of these were defaced. These defaced, or discolored, dollars—and none others—were used by him as specimens to prove his charges. His accusations were laid before the Mint authorities and fully investigated. Doctor Linderman, the Secretary of the Treasury, the authorities of the Mint at Philadelphia, were all invoked. They analyzed the coin—and the story—and they dismissed the whole affair as too frivolous for further investigation or more concern.

Now let us add just this: We think we are fully cognizant of the influence which seeks to destroy the Carson Mint. At present, however, we are hampered by official secrecy. We cannot, until we are authorized, put in print that which would at once clear up the whole matter. In the meantime the officers of the Carson Mint demand a full and fair investigation of all their acts. If they are dishonest or incapable, they want the facts and specifications shown. If the powers that be will give the Appeal permission so to do, we will show what influence is at work upon and through the Bulletin thus to put a pretext into the hands of the Honorable Committee on Appropriations to injure the Carson Mint. Let official red tape take off the limits of restraint, and we think we can show the sinister motives of this attack by the Bulletin.

It is proposed to divide the Kosuth mine. There are 2,700 linear feet in the claim, of which 1,400 feet will be retained by the present Company, and 1,300 feet will be set apart to a new incorporation in consideration of the entire capital stock, which will be $10,800,000 in 108,000 shares.

MINING ITEMS.

(From the Gold Hill News of Thursday.)

Ophir.
Daily yield 150 tons of ore. The ore breasts on the 1500 and 1465-foot levels are looking splendid, and continue their regular supply of good milling ore. The drifts on the 1500-foot level have been cleaned out and repaired in the face of the ore breasts on that level, so that the extraction of ore at that point can be resumed whenever it is desirable or necessary to do so. The east shaft connecting with the 1700-foot level has been cleaned out and repaired to within a very short distance of the bottom. A drift south on the ore vein has been started on the 1100-foot level. The prospects at that point are quite favorable. The enlargement of the shaft is rapidly reaching completion. The mills are kept steadily crushing ore from the mine. The new office and assay rooms are rapidly approaching completion. The machinery is all working splendidly, and the future again begins to look more hopeful and prosperous.

Julia.
Sinking the shaft below the 1700-foot level is going ahead at a very rapid rate, the Barleigh drills in the bottom doing excellent work. The bottom is still in quartz, clay and porphyry, mixed. The character of the ground evidently indicates a near approach to the main ledge. There is no water whatever. The face of the main southwest drift on the 1600-foot level is still in quartz of a very encouraging character. The ledge on this level is showing much more concentrated than it was on the 1400-foot level, and the indications are daily growing more favorable for the development of a paying mine at no very distant day. The main southwest prospecting drift on the 1400-foot level is advancing at the rate of 5 to 8 feet per day; also showing some very favorable prospects.

Mexican.
The course of the north drift, on the 1465-foot level, has been changed until the drift is skirting the east clay selvage of the ore vein, cutting occasional spots and streaks of ore. The drift will be continued in the way for some distance, and then this ledge will be again cross-cut and the width and value of the ore body determined. The ore where it was cross-cut farther back shows great richness, and taken altogether, is of a good milling character. The average assays are excellent, and there is not a doubt but a fine paying ore deposit is being opened.

Crown Point.
Daily yield, 350 tons of ore—keeping the mills steadily running. On the 1600-foot level a crosscut has been run near the foot of south winze No. 2, penetrating the ledge for some distance, showing the ledge to be solid quartz and low grade ore. The main south drift, on the 1600-foot level, is steadily advancing towards the Belcher line. The east drift on the 1700-foot level has reached the wall of the ledge, finding only quartz and low grade ore in its course. A drift south has been started on this ore vein which has not yet made any important developments.

Imperial-Empire.
The north drift on the 2000-foot level is steadily advancing toward the Alpha ground, the face still in rich ore. The steady development of this body of ore is not only placing the Imperial one more in a fair way to join the ranks of our dividend paying mines, but is also leading to the almost inevitable conclusion that the Alpha will yet prove itself to contain a bonanza hardly second to that of the Consolidated Virginia mine. There are no new phases to report of the prospecting operations in any other portion of the mine.

Consolidated Virginia.

Daily yield 750 tons of ore, keeping the mills all crushing up to their full working capacity. The yield of bullion for the month of March is already upwards of $2,000,000, and exceeds that of February by about $400,000, at the same date. Providing always that no unavoidable circumstances happen to prevent, the production of the mine for March will exceed $3,000,000. These facts need no comment; they speak for themselves in language so forcible that to attempt to add a word would be folly.

Yellow Jacket.

A new and important ore development was made yesterday in the middle crosscut of the 1940-foot level. Just the extent of this discovery, of course, can not yet be determined; but so far as developed it looks very much as if the Yellow Jacket was on the point of again coming to the front ranks with another rich ore body. There is no change to report of the other prospecting drifts on that level. The cross-drifts on the 1740-foot level are showing no change.

Belcher.

Daily yield 460 tons of ore. The ore breasts are both looking and yielding well, the ore continuing of a fine character, rich in gold. The mills are kept steadily running, and the bullion yield of the mine will not fall short of that of last month. The dumps are kept well supplied with ore which is being shipped to the mill as fast as it is extracted.

California.

The California mill, with a crushing capacity of 300 tons per day, will be started up on ore from this mine on the first of the coming month. This will, of course, lessen to some extent the yield of the Consolidated Virginia for the month of April, but will add an increase, if anything to the combined bullion production of the two mines.

Union Consolidated.

Sinking the winze on the south line is making steady headway, the bottom still in very favorable quartz and ledge matter.

The Comstock.—The prospects along the entire line of the Comstock are growing brighter and brighter. The Gold Hill News says the ore body struck in the Imperial is proving rich and gradually extending to the northward, until there is now hardly a doubt that the Alpha will get a large portion of it, when once the combination drift now being run reaches their ground. The ore development in the Mexican still continues of a highly encouraging character. But the latest, and one of the most flattering of all, is an entirely new ore strike on the 1940-foot level of the Yellow Jacket. This development is near the center of the mine, and bids fair, so far as the drift has penetrated, to soon place the Yellow Jacket once more in the front rank of our best paying mines. The Consolidated Virginia is again exclaiming herself in the production of bullion, the yield for March already amounting to over $2,000,000, and exceeding that of last month at the same date by about $400,000. If the production of bullion continues at the same rate to the end of the month, its yield will not be short of $3,200,000.

To this may be easily added another million as the product of the Belcher, Ophir and other mines. It matters not which way stocks may turn, the developments in our mines are fast placing them on a producing basis, where our people will no longer have anything to fear from the bears.

REWARD.—Wells, Fargo & Co. offer a reward of five hundred dollars, or $250 for each, for the return of the two bars stolen from the Austin and Battle Mountain stage, on the night of the 16th instant. Following are the numbers, value, etc., of the bars:
